OPINION BY THE COMPTROLLER

Treasury Department Advises the Commissioners That Funds Spec-Marriage Certificates,

The annual report of Dr. Magruder Muncaster, the secretary of the Woman's Dispensary, was submitted to Herbert W. Lewis, the District superintendent of charities, yesterday.

This institution was incorporated years ago for the treatment of diseases of omen and children, by physicians of their own sex, or others designated by the board of directors.

The report reads in part as follows: "In the quotation from the act of March 3, 1897, it will be noticed that Congress for the relief of the poor of the District of Columbia. With that fund and the help from some of our charitably inclined citizens, who have contributed annually since the establishment of the Dispensary, we have, with close scruting, been able to administer successors. It is also a well-established much needed medical and surgical attention. "The main source of support is the almuch needed medical and surgical attention in a section of the city where there are many poor. Fortunately, we have no salaries to pay, except $10 per month to salaries to pay, except $10 per month to the apothecary. The attendance of the able corps of physicians is purely gratulmust prevail.

"A first treatment is given all applicants in immediate need of medical or surgical attention, whether able to pay or not; but in the former case they are directed to seek their physician for subsequent advice and aid.

"There has been a slight decrease in the number of applicants for treatment, which may be attributed to one or all of everal causes, viz: The establishment for a period of about six months in the early part of the year of a similar institution in the immediate neighborhood, less sickness, and more rigid impairy, at the request of the superintendent of charities, as to the ability of patients to employ a physician and the discemination among the people of such steps to prevent imposition.

"The bare poss.bility of this being subjected to an inquiry as to their ability to jected to an inquiry as to their ability to employ a physician, and the probability of discovery that they are able to pay, has no doubt, deterred many from applying and been beneficial to physicians and refleved the dispensary of some chartty impostors. It is believed, however, that such steps do not interfere with the application by the warthy poor."

The report gives the following summary of the dispensary work of the institution: Number of applications for treatment, 2.832, number of applicants refused (record incomplete), 5; number of treatments, 2.832 number of new cases, female, 157; number of new cases, female, 157; number of new cases, mule, 157; number of new cases, mule, 157; number of new cases, surgimedical 992; number of new cases, surgi-cal, 892; number of surgical operations performed in dispensary, 85; external ap-plications, (gymaecological and surgical). 744; number of prescriptions compounded 2341; average cost per treatment includ-ing total expenses, 25 cents. The theancial condition of the institu-tion is stated as being as follows:

CHARITY APPROFRIATIONS.

Institutions Specially Provided for Will Receive Their Funds The Comptroller of the Treasury has ruled that the appropriations specially made for the support of sectarian and ec clesiastical institutions and societies in the District of Columbia may be used. The Comptroller recently formulated a ruling whereby church societies were excluded from participation in the $28,000 charity appropriation, made by Congress last year for distribution by the Board of Children's Guardians. This ruling did not contain an exception, favoring certain institutions of a religious nature, which had been especially provided for, and the District Commissioners were undecided as to whether they should allow the appro priations to be distributed.

According to the ruling in question, it appeared that such institutions as the Church Orphanage of St. John's Parish. St. Ane's infant Asylum, the House of the Good Shepherd, the St. Rose Industrial School and St. Joseph's Asylum, were to be barred. The matter was an impor tant one, and the Commis query to the comptroller culighten them more fully as to the intention of the first decision, and whether it was applicable in the payment of the money which was thus specially set aside by the Government. The comptroller yesterday advised them that the money thus appropriated may be used for the reason that the appropria-tions for the institutions in question wer-made by Congress, subsequent to the dec laration of a former Congress, that no appropriations be made for sectarian in-

Comptroller Tracewell states in his let-ter of advice to the Commissioners that it is a fundamental rule that one Congress cannot restrict the action of its successors, and also that the later law, which is in conflict with a former act, operates to repeal the first one to the extent of the conflict.

For this reason he maintains that though charity appropriations cann-distributed for the maintenance of tarian institutions, according to condi tions under which the special appropria-tions were made, they must certainly be used for the purposes indicated by Congress.

NO WAR TAX ON MARRIAGES. Ruling That No Stamps Be Affixed

on Certificates,
The Commissioner of Internal Revenue vesterday informed the District Commissioners that no war tax revenue stamps need be attached to certificates of marriage, births and deaths.

The ruling is sweeping in nature, and will apply to certificates of a similar nature issued in all parts of the country. In stirring times like the present, when war romances are frequent and military marriages still more so, the Government will lose considerable revenue on account of the ruling, but the war revenue measure contains a section which strictly prohibits the imposition of taxes on certificates similar to those in question, and, the decision thus given provides further exemption.

The ruling of the Internal Revenue Burean was given in response to a letter re-cently addressed by the District Commis-sioners, inquiring whether under that pro-vision of the twenty-fifth section of the war revenue law, which requires that in-ternal revenue stamps be affixed to certi-ficates of any description required by law and not otherwise specified, it is necessary to affix such stamps to certificates required by law to be returned to the health office in cases of births, deaths and The Internal Revenue Commissioner in

The Internal Revenue Commissioner in his ruling states that "certificates of birth, marriage and death, given in pursuance of the laws of the State requiring the collection and registration of vital statistics as a basis for the adminstration of public health laws, come within the exemption of section 17."

The exemption of section 17 provides "that is the internal baseby to avenue." "that it is the intent hereby to exempt ... 82 84 from stamp taxes imposed by this act such State, county, town or other municipal corporations in the exercise of functions strictly belonging to them in their

MORE POLICE CHANGES.

A General But Gradual Shake-Up Is Imminent.

The local police department is gradually being given a shake-up by Major Sylvester, the new chief of police. Number less changes have already been made since the incumbency of the present chief, to the decision of this office of August 1, 1885, to the effect that the board of children's guardians is not authorized to pay any part of its appropriation to any institution or society which is under sectarian or ecclesiastical control. The statute there considered is the District of Columbia appropriation act, approved Macrzen, Senate, Extra Pale or Lager.

"You now submit the inquiry:

"Whether this ruling is to be construed as applicable to the appropriations for the sectarian institutions which are specifically provided for in the District appropriation act of June 30, 1898, or whether these appropriations by Congress in contradiction of the policy and provision set forth in the clause above cited may not be regarded as special legislation, which would warrant an exception to the general law previously enacted.

severely commented upon early last Sum-mer as a result of the escape of several important criminals, and the consequent shake-up which the force of that precinct received at the time is still fresh to the public mind. Among the members which composed at one time what was satir-ically known as the "Second Precinct Outing Party" were Dorsey Foultz, the murderer of "Monk" Robinson; Patrick Carr, the ravisher of little Dora Robinson, and Tim Hurley, who was also wanted on a serious charge. The latter two men have been caught, but Foultz is still a fugitive. The working force of the precinct is now considerably stronger than formerly, but there are said to be still several weak but there are said to be still several weak. Hence the transfer of Sullivan to that precinct, for the purpose of bringing the number of such officers up to the customary quota of three.

The new chief will, in turn, direct his attention to the detective bureau, where several changes will be made. He has already caused the repeal of that section of the police manual which requires them to remain at their desks at police head-
